

SHILOH HOME, INC.

Restoring Traumatized Youth and Family

To Whom It May Concern,

My Name is Rebecca Rich and I am the Residential Supervisor for Shiloh House Northern Campuses. Shiloh House is a non-profit residential treatment center serving youth from ages 7 to 18. Many of your clients have very troubled and traumatic backgrounds. As a result, they often suffer from low self esteem, display multiple behavioral problems, and struggle developing healthy relationships with others.

Last spring, Shiloh was approached by the gentlemen at Youth on Record in order to start a computer-based music literacy and production program. This program took place at our Adams campus with clients ages 7-12 and with the Longmont campus clients ages 12-18. The effect that this program had on both groups was astounding. The clients involved in this program began to display a huge increase in their self confidence. As a result, their behavior and attitude began to change. The clients were allowed a healthy and creative outlet. They were able to work independently, yet they encouraged and inspired one another. Each client had their music posted on the Youth on Record website and left with a CD of their music. The gentlemen running this program were nothing but professional. They were very knowledgeable, creative and fun. These guys were just all around great role models for our clients.

The Youth on Record program has provided the clients at Shiloh House with the opportunity to be creative, establish a positive self image, become more confident and develop a healthy relationship with a positive male role model. It is my pleasure to give a recommendation to Youth on Record. They have shown a tremendous level of talent and dedication to this program. I hope to continue to work with Youth on Record for years to come.
