Youth on Record Stories and Highlights

Summer 2025

Celebrating 25 Years of UMS

Youth on Record went all out for the final Underground Music Showcase (UMS) in its current form this summer!

This wasn't just three days of music on South Broadway - it was community building, discovering new artists, and revisiting why Denver's music scene matters. As co-owners, we're already thinking ahead to what the future of UMS could bring.

Read Jami's full statement on UMS

The YOR team curated a summit for UMS artists and Denver creatives to amplify their music, enhance their wellness, and unite their voices. Through two days of panels and workshops, networking opportunities, wellness offerings, a Demo Derby, and roundtable discussions, artists got loud about what they need to thrive in a music ecosystem.

See a Day 1 Recap here

YOR hosted 3 weeks of Middle School Summer Camp, introducing students to beat making, songwriting, audio recording, and performing live with a band!

> See Summer Camp photos here

As part of our Funding Their Future initiative, YOR young creatives have been performing all summer long (May-October) at Civic Center Eats in Civic Center Park.

N CREATIVE EDUCATION

This summer, we ran a NEW Podcast Camp for high school students. Campers produced their own audio features, which can be heard on upcoming Youth on Rewind episodes.

Listen to July's episode

YOR hosted La Alma Live, a free summer concert series for the La Alma Lincoln Park neighborhood featuring local artist lineups.

Get Loud for Good

The YOR community Got LOUD for Good on the final day of UMS, with a free, family-friendly concert featuring artists who ride with our mission. The beachy event ended with YOR students joining SPELLS onstage for an unforgettable intergenerational performance!

Get Loud Radio Lounge

The YOR Media Arts team collaborated with Indie 102.3 to interview UMS headliners and artists throughout the weekend, sharing their stories and providing hands-on experience to our podcast production team.

Check out photos from the Radio Lounge