

Introducing the Rising Creatives Advisory Group!

This year, we launched the Rising Creatives Advisory Group. Rising Creatives is our long-term workforce initiative, designed to prepare and place young adults ages 18-25 in careers in music, entertainment, sports, and live events.

We'll be working with this group of 12 young creative professionals, many of whom are Youth on Record alumni, to chart a path for our workforce development initiatives.

New Enrichment Offerings

In January, we launched two new studio offerings: Future of Femme and Mix It Up Cypher! Future of Femme invites femme-identified youth ages 14-18 to build community and explore identity in a creative healing circle. The Mix It Up Cypher is an opportunity for youth 14-24 to collaborate and create an original song together in real time.

In January, we welcomed our 8th cohort of YOR Fellows! They'll be meeting monthly for artist development seminars, mentorship opportunities, and undertaking apprenticeships with the YOR team.

Current and former podcast interns recently visited the Fresh Tape Media studios, getting a behind the scenes look at a full time media agency and production company.

Students from Lake and DCIS Middle Schools joined us in the studio for a field trip this quarter! They practiced songwriting, participated in a drum circle, and recorded music!

Our Youth Media team has been hard at work: releasing two new (fantastic) Youth on Rewind episodes and new Get Loud Radio Lounge episodes, interviewing OK Go, The Barr Brothers, and more.

Playing for the Pros

Our Colorado High School Charter students have been rocking out this semester, even performing a Green Day song for a special guest via Zoom - Jason White, a guitarist for Green Day!

Have you visited our studio lately?

If not, let us take you behind the scenes, MTV-Cribs style! Follow YOR Fellow Mae through the studio in this YouTube video, produced and edited by Podcast Internship alum Lucy.

Our YouTube channel features tons of youth performances and artist interviews, all produced by the Youth Media Team!
